Real Estate Continuing Education

New Salesperson Module Course Contents

Newly-licensed Salespersons are required to complete four modules of continuing education (CE) within the first 12 months of licensure. They will be required to attest on their first renewal application that they have completed this coursework.

During each licensure renewal period, licensees must complete 21 hours of CE in seven required modules. Each module must be at least three hours in length.

This document summarizes suggested course content for each required module. The suggested subject matter on these outlines may be covered by the instructor who is permitted flexibility in regard to how much time he or she needs to cover a topic. Module 1 must cover agency and fair housing. Each course must include a mandatory question and answer and/or course review.

Before teaching any course, the course provider must submit course outlines to the Education Committee and Commission for review and approval using the Application for Approval of Real Estate Educational Course. The Education Committee will use these guidelines to evaluate courses submitted for review and approval.

For more information, see Section 6.0 of the Education Guidelines and Section 13.0 of the Real Estate Commission’s Rules and Regulations.
